Society

The Honolulu friends of Mrs. Ray, the wife of Maj. Beecher B. Ray, will be grieved to learn that she is seriously ill at a sanatorium near Chicago, and that very little hope is held out for her recovery.

Mrs. J. R. Myers of Kilauea, Kauai, left on the Sierra for Portland, where she will visit with relatives.

Paul de Longpre, the celebrated California painter of flowers, who spent several weeks here last year, has returned and is stopping at Waikiki. Mr. de Longpre is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Col. Walter Schuyler of the Fifth Cavalry is expected to return about the fifteenth of next month from his detail of accompanying Prince Tsai Tao to Washington and New York. Colonel Schuyler will be on duty in the Islands only a few more months, when he will leave to fill a vacancy on the general staff.

During the absence of her husband on a business trip to Hawaii, Mrs. James Cockburn is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Watson at their home on Alexander street.

Mrs. C. H. Dickey is booked to depart on the Wilhelmina on Wednesday for an indefinite visit in California.

Miss Esther McCall of Oakland, who will be remembered from her visit here two years ago as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hornberger, has announced her engagement to Percy Walker Barnard, a brother of Lieutenant Barnard of the Fifth Cavalry. The wedding will be a small home affair, and will take place on the first day of June.

Letters received from Mrs. Alexander G. Hawes Jr. report a delightful trip en route to Europe. While in California Mrs. Hawes was the guest of Mrs. Alexander Isenberg at Berkeley, and in Washington, D. C. she visited the Hatches. Mrs. Hawes has gone on to London, where she will visit with Doctor and Mrs. Humphris, and will go from there to Paris to visit with her aunt.

Mrs. C. Hedemann was the hostess on Wednesday at a luncheon given at her Waikiki home, at which the table was decorated with delicate pink carnations and covers were laid for ten.

Miss Mary Eynon of Philadelphia was an arriving passenger on the Wilhelmina and is the houseguest of her sister, Mrs. Louis J. Warren, at her home in Maunaloa Valley. Mrs. Warren and Miss Eynon will be at home on Mondays.

Mrs. Louis J. Warren entertained on Thursday afternoon with a children's party at her home in Maunaloa Valley, the occasion being the sixth birthday anniversary of her little daughter, Winifred. The afternoon was passed with games on the lawn and then a table which had as a centerpiece a full-fledged May Pole with ribbon streamers and all of the trimmings.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

Shakespeare Next Week.

It is just seven years since the theater-going public of Honolulu had the pleasure of being entertained by a complete and elaborate production of Shakespeare; not since the days of Wardie and James, who played to standing room for fifteen performances. On the strength of this, and owing to the success of their first costume play, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," Mr. McRae has decided to produce Shakespeare's greatest comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew." Mr. McRae, Miss Oswald and several of his company have been associated with several of the latter-day great exponents of Shakespeare. Therefore they guarantee a first-class production of this bright, merry comedy.

Mr. McRae announces that, should this venture prove profitable, he will produce "Romeo and Juliet," "The Merchant of Venice," "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "The Midsummer Night's Dream." His object in producing "The Taming of the Shrew" for his first Shakespearean production is simply because it is almost the only one of Shakespeare's comedies that has a regular plot and downright moral. It is full of bustle and animation and rapidity of action; it shows admirably how self-will is only to be got the better of by stronger will, and how one degree of ridiculous perversity is only to be driven out by another still greater. The costumes worn in this production will be correct in every detail and of beautiful design. The scenery and general atmosphere of the play will be true to Shakespeare.

Honolulu should certainly take advantage of being entertained by a good production of Shakespeare at popular prices.

The Novelty.

Mayo and Rowe have a sketch, called "The New Doctor," this week, and it promises great things. These artists have signed for a long term in the Orient, and their appearances here are limited. The other attractions at the Novelty are sufficient to pack the house every night. Good music and singing and plenty of good, wholesome pictures. The management of this theater has used discretion in the selection of artists for its patrons and has seldom failed to make good.

The Empire.

Miss Viva McNall, formerly of the Tivoli opera company of San Francisco, is the dainty little contralto who will appear at this theater on Monday night. She is said to be a champion of those who would lead the end of a dandruff killer. This being the case, those who wish seats for next week should apply at the box office at once. Rose and Joan will play during the week. Their songs are of a high order and they attract many persons to this theater. The variety program will be "A Lesson in Curfew," "The Little Sister," "The Street's Neighbors" and "Sensational Instructions," all of which will surely please.

Army and Navy News

MORE MARINES FOR CAMP VERY GARRISON

Seventy marines have been ordered from the Philippines to Honolulu to augment the battalion at Camp Very. Information to this effect reached the marine station yesterday by the Korea. The marines will arrive here in the near future. Whether any officers have been detached from the Philippines to accompany them, has not been learned.

Canavarro a Commodore.

Senhor A. de Sousa Canavarro, Consul-General for Portugal, is not only a consul of his kingdom, but he holds the rank of a naval commodore as well. In his younger days Consul Canavarro was a naval officer. His uniform, therefore, is practically a naval uniform, and when he appeared at the services Friday in St. Andrew's Cathedral to honor the late King Edward, his uniform looked very similar to those worn by the officers of the Portuguese cruiser San Gabriel. His epaulettes were fringed with gold. As a matter of fact Senhor Canavarro ranks the captain of the Portuguese cruiser, and according to naval and consular etiquette the captain's first duty on arriving here is to call upon the consul, the latter afterwards returning the call.

Army Menu in Mindanao.

Away down in the Island of Mindanao, far from the usual haunts of civilization, Uncle Sam's soldiers are not starving by any means, according to a Washington's Birthday menu at the United States military hospital at Ludlow Barracks, Herman J. Webber, Sergeant, first-class of the Hospital Corps, who was formerly stationed at Fort Shafter, has written from Mindanao asking that The Advertiser be mailed regularly to him, as he feels the need of keeping in touch with Hawaiian affairs. The menu discloses oyster soup, fried chicken, lobster salad, turkey with oyster dressing, cranberry sauce, baked sweet potatoes, string beans, apple, apricot and pumpkin pie, cake, ginger snaps, ice cream, oranges, apples, cigars, cognac. Sergeant Webber is the mess sergeant.

Goes to Leavenworth.

Capt. Charles W. Exton, Twentieth Infantry, commanding Company G of the Second Battalion at the Kalaheiki reservation, has been designated by the war department as one of the officer students at the military school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Captain Exton will leave Fort Shafter early in July for his new detail. The military school opens in August.

Twentieth Hiking.

Short practice marches are made by the companies of the Twentieth Infantry during the early morning hours. Moanalua is visited by means of the military road for a few miles. A few of the battalion companies appear in heavy marching equipment, others without.

Finest Bugle Corps.

The Ninth Cavalry of the United States Army has probably the very finest bugle corps in the entire service of Uncle Sam. During the first carnival at Manila, P. I., which was inaugurated and directed by Capt. George T. Langhorne, Eleventh Cavalry, then aide-de-camp to Major-General Leonard Wood, commanding the Philippine Division, the bugle corps of this excellent regiment of colored men journeyed from their station at Camp McGrath, Batangas, Luzon, to Manila, to participate in the first and most successful carnival held in the Philippine archipelago.

This accomplished corps of buglers, mounted on their cavalry horses, headed and led with their sweet notes the short-lived royalty of the carnival. To this Ninth Cavalry bugle corps is also credited the "Carnival Two-step" composition and many other beautiful pieces of music which their tunefulness and melody has carried to all parts of the world.
